Dear Bill Lin:

Please see the enclosed engineering report number DD7259 for the voAC3Dec made by VisualOn, Inc., which performs 5.1-channel Dolby Digital decoding.

The performance of the voAC3Dec met all of our requirements for 5.1-channel Dolby Digital decoding, and we are pleased to give the design our approval. Congratulations! The voAC3Dec is now approved for 5.1-channel Dolby Digital decoding.

Please send us the data sheet for your implementation, along with any other name(s) that will appear on your final product to be released to manufacturers. This will allow our Product Evaluation Group to easily trace this name to an approved implementation.

Please send the above information and any questions you may have regarding this report to me at tegge@dolby.com. We wish you great success in marketing your implementation.

Sincerely,
